Following the success of Trenchless Middle East 2025 held in Jeddah, the spotlight will once again be on the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. This time hosted in Riyadh, at the heart of Saudi Arabia's transformational Infrastructure programme.

Riyadh is the ideal host city – a hub for:

- Major utility and pipeline developments
- Metro, rail, and tunnelling projects
- Water, wastewater, and energy infrastructure
- Large-scale urban and industrial expansion
- Trenchless Middle East 2026 arrives at the perfect time to support these ambitions with smarter, faster, and more sustainable underground solutions.

Saudi Arabia's Vision 2030 sets out an ambitious transformation of the Kingdom's economy, cities, and infrastructure. Central to this vision is the delivery of world-class, sustainable, and future-ready infrastructure that supports population growth, economic diversification, and improved quality of life.

Trenchless Middle East 2026 directly supports these goals by providing a dedicated platform focused on smart underground construction, bringing together trenchless technology, underground construction, and subsurface engineering, global experts, solution providers, and project owners – the disciplines that enable modern cities to grow efficiently below ground.
